On page 1 of said bill, strike out lines 1 to 6, inclusive, and insert

"SECTION 1. Chapter 1.7 is added to Division 3 of the Education Code, to read:

CHAPTER 1.7. STATE SCHOOL BUILDING BONDS

5100. For the purpose of creating a fund to provide aid to school districts of the State, the State School Building Finance Committee, created by Section 5108, shall be and it hereby is authorized and empowered to create a debt or debts, liability or liabilities, of the State of California in the manner and to the extent hereinafter provided, but not otherwise, nor in excess thereof.

5101. After the approval by the people of the constitutional amendment of the 1949 Regular Session of the Legislature adding Section 15 to Article XVI of the Constitution of the State, and immediately after adoption of any resolution by the State School Building Finance Committee, provided for in Section 5110, the State Treasurer shall arrange for the preparation of the requisite number of suitable bonds of the denomination of one thousand dollars ($1,000), or multiples thereof, in accordance with the specifications contained in such resolution. The aggregate par value of all bonds issued under this chapter shall not exceed the sum of four hundred million dollars ($400,000,000) and shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding 5 percent per annum. Both principal and interest shall be payable in lawful money of the United States, at the office of the State Treasurer, or at the office of any duly authorized agent of the State Treasurer.

All bonds issued under this chapter shall bear the facsimile signature of the Governor and the facsimile counter-signature of the Controller and shall be endorsed by the State Treasurer either by original signature or by a signature stamp, and the bonds shall be signed, countersigned, and endorsed by the officers who shall be in office on the date of issuance thereof, and each of said bonds shall bear an impress of the Great Seal of the State of California. Interest coupons attached to each bond shall bear the facsimile signature of the State Treasurer who shall be in office on the date of issuance of the bond to which said coupons pertain. The bonds or coupons so signed, countersigned, endorsed, and sealed, when sold, shall be and constitute a valid and binding general obligation upon the State of California, although the sale thereof be made at a date or dates upon which the officers having signed, countersigned, and endorsed said bonds or coupons, or any or either of said officers, shall have ceased to be the incumbents of the offices held by them at the time of signing, countersigning, or endorsing said bonds or coupons. Each bond issue under this chapter shall contain a clause or clauses referring to this chapter and to the resolutions of the State School Building Finance Committee hereunder by virtue of which said bond is issued, and if subject to call or redemption prior to maturity, shall contain a recital to that effect.

5102. The State Treasurer shall, on the respective dates of maturity or prior redemption of said bonds, or as soon thereafter as said bonds are surrendered to him, pay the same out of the proceeds of the Controller's warrants drawn in his favor as provided in Section 5103 and perforate the bonds so paid with a suitable device in a manner to indicate such payment and the date thereof. The State Treasurer, or his duly authorized agent, shall also, on the respective dates of maturity, cancel all bonds and appurtenant coupons bearing said dates of maturity and remaining unsold, by perforation with a suitable device in a manner to indicate such cancellation and the date thereof; provided, however, new bonds may be prepared and executed in lieu of bonds canceled solely by reason of the fact that such bonds have not been sold prior to their fixed maturity dates, whenever the State School Building Finance Committee shall determine such new bonds shall be prepared and executed, subject to the condition the total indebtedness created hereunder shall not exceed the maximum limit herein specified. Not less than four years after the final maturity date of a particular issue of bonds, the State Treasurer, or his duly authorized agent, may destroy or cremate any bonds of such issue which have been previously paid or canceled as hereinbefore provided.

5103. All bonds herein authorized, which shall have been duly sold and delivered as herein provided, shall constitute valid and legally binding general obligations of the State of California, and the full faith and credit of the State of California is hereby pledged for the punctual payment of both principal and interest thereof. There is hereby appropriated from the General Fund in the State Treasury such sum annually as will be necessary to pay the principal of and the interest on the bonds issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, as said principal and interest become due and payable.

There shall be collected annually in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected such a sum, in addition to the ordinary revenues of the State, as shall be required to pay the principal and interest on said bonds as herein provided, and it is hereby made the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the collection of said revenue, to do and perform each and every act which shall be necessary to collect such additional sum.

On the several dates of maturity of said principal and interest in each fiscal year, there shall be returned into the General Fund in the State Treasury, all of the money in the Public School Building Loan Fund to the extent transferred into or deposited in said fund in accordance with the provisions of Sections 5078, 5071, 5072, and 5073, not in excess of the principal of and interest on the said bonds then due and payable, except as hereinafter provided for the prior redemption of said bonds, and, in the event such money so returned on said dates of maturity being less than the said principal and interest then due and payable, then the balance remaining unpaid shall be returned into the General Fund in the State Treasury out of said Public School Building Loan Fund as soon thereafter as it shall become available, together with interest thereon from such dates of maturity until so returned at the same rate as borne by said bonds, compounded semiannually.

Both principal and interest of said bonds shall be paid when due upon warrants duly drawn against said appropriation from the General Fund by the Controller of the State in favor of the State Treasurer, or his duly authorized agent, upon demands audited by the Department of Finance, and the money to be returned into the General Fund in the State Treasury pursuant to the provisions of this section shall likewise be paid as herein provided upon warrants duly drawn by the Controller upon demands duly audited by the Department of Finance. The State Allocation Board, by resolution approved by the State School Building Finance Committee, shall direct the State Treasurer to call bonds (which are then subject to redemption) if such call is desirable and whenever funds are available to effect such redemption, the part of each issue so called to be not less than all of the bonds maturing in any one year. Notice of such redemption shall be given by the State Treasurer in the manner provided in the resolution authorizing the issuance of said bonds.

5104. The sum of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) is hereby appropriated out of the General Fund to be used as a revolving fund to pay the expenses incurred by the State Treasurer in having said bonds prepared and in advertising their sale or their prior redemption. Whenever bonds are sold, out of the first money realized from the sale of said bonds, there shall be redeposited in the revolving fund such sums as the State Treasurer has expended for the purpose, which may be used for the same purpose and repaid in the same manner whenever additional sales are made. Whenever all the bonds authorized by this chapter have been sold, said revolving fund shall be refunded to the General Fund in the State Treasury.

5105. The bonds authorized to be issued under this chapter shall be sold by the State Treasurer to the highest bidder for cash at public sale upon sealed bids in such parcels and numbers as the State Treasurer shall be directed by the Governor of the State, under seal thereof, but the State Treasurer must reject any and all bids for said bonds, or for any of them, which shall be below the par value of said bonds so offered plus the interest which shall have accrued thereon between the date of purchaser's payment for said bonds and the last preceding interest maturity date; and the State Treasurer may from time to time, by public announcement at the place and time fixed for the sale, continue such sale, as to the whole of the bonds offered, or any part thereof offered, at such time and place as the State Treasurer may select. Each bid shall be in writing and signed by the bidder and sealed, and shall be accompanied by the deposit of a certified check or cashier's check for five thousand dollars ($5,000), drawn on a bank or trust company authorized to transact and transacting business in the State of California, payable to the Treasurer of the State of California, such deposit not to bear interest. The deposit of each unsuccessful bidder shall be returned to him immediately upon the nonacceptance of his bid, and the deposit of the successful bidder shall immediately upon the acceptance of his bid become and be the property of the State of California and be placed in the State Treasury to the credit of the Public School Building Loan Fund, and shall be credited to the successful purchaser upon the purchase price of the bonds bid for in case such purchase price is paid in full by him within the time mutually agreed upon between the successful bidder and the State Treasurer. If the purchase price is not so paid, the successful bidder shall have no right in and to said bonds or by reason of said bid, or to the recovery of said deposit accompanying said bid, or to any allowance or credit by reason of such deposit unless it shall appear that the bonds would not be validly issued if delivered to the purchaser in the form and manner proposed. In case the purchase price is not so paid, the bonds so sold but not paid for shall be resold by the State Treasurer upon notice as provided in case of original sale.

Temporary or interim bonds, certificates, or receipts of any denomination whatever and with or without coupons attached thereto, to be signed by the State Treasurer, may be issued and delivered until the definitive bonds are executed and available for delivery. Signature of the State Treasurer may be by signature stamp.

5106. Due notice of the time and place of sale of all bonds shall be given by the State Treasurer by publication in one newspaper published in the City and County of San Francisco, by publication in one newspaper published in the City of Sacramento, and by publication in one newspaper published in the City of Los Angeles once a week during two weeks prior to such sale. In addition to the notice last above provided for, the State Treasurer may give further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expense and cost of such additional notice shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars ($500) for each sale so advertised. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds and such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon shall be forthwith paid over by the State Treasurer into the Public School Building Loan Fund and must be used exclusively to aid school districts of the State in purchasing and improving school sites, the purchasing of furniture and equipment for schools, and the planning and constructing, reconstructing, repairing, alteration of, and making additions to, school buildings; provided, that the proceeds from the sale of said bonds may be used to pay the debt created by the issuance and sale thereof, the expense of preparing and of advertising the sale or prior redemption of said bonds, and the actual and necessary expenses of the State School Building Finance Committee.

5107. The Department of Finance is authorized, with the approval of the State Board of Control, to invest any surplus money in the Public School Building Loan Fund in bonds or other obligations of the United States, or of the State of California, or of the several counties, municipalities, school districts or other public agencies of the State of California, and to sell such bonds, or obligations, or any of them, at the governing market rates. Interest accruing upon the deposit of money of the Public School Building Loan Fund shall be paid into and credited to said fund.

5108. There is hereby created a State School Building Finance Committee composed of the Governor, State Controller, State Treasurer, Director of Finance, and Director of Education, all of whom shall serve thereon without compensation and a majority of whom shall be empowered to act for said committee. The Attorney General of the State shall be the legal adviser of the State School Building Finance Committee.

5109. Upon request of the State Allocation Board, supported by a statement of the apportionments made and to be made under Chapter 1.6 of Division 3, the State School Building Finance Committee shall determine whether or not it is necessary or desirable to issue any bonds authorized under this chapter in order to make such apportionments, and, if so, the amount of bonds then to be issued and sold. Successive issues of bonds may be authorized and sold to make such apportionments progressively, and it shall not be necessary that all of the bonds herein authorized to be issued shall be sold at any one time.

5110. Whenever the State School Building Finance Committee shall have determined that the sale of all or any part of the bonds authorized to be issued under this chapter is necessary or desirable to make such apportionments, in whole or in part, it shall adopt a resolution to this effect. The said resolution shall authorize and direct the State Treasurer to provide for the preparation of the requisite number of suitable bonds then authorized to be sold and shall specify as to such bonds then to be sold:

1. The aggregate number, aggregate par value, and the date of the bonds to be then sold. The date appearing on said bonds shall be deemed to be the date of issuance for all purposes of this chapter, irrespective of the actual date of delivery of such bonds and the payment of the purchase price thereof. Successive issues of bonds herein authorized shall be identified by the number of the issue, or the entire authorized issue may be divided into series or divisions appropriately identified by letter or number.

2. The date or dates of maturity, and the number and numerical sequence of the bonds maturing at each date of maturity, to be at annual or semiannual intervals.

3. The provisions, if any, for the retirement of said bonds at any time or times prior to their maturity, the manner thereof, and the price or prices at which said bonds shall be redeemed.

4. The annual rate, or rates, of interest which the bonds to be issued shall bear, to be in multiples of one fourth of 1 percent, which rate, or rates, at the discretion of said committee, may be determined by the bidder at the time of sale of said bonds, not to exceed 5 percent.

5. The number, numerical sequence, amount or amounts, and dates of maturity of the interest coupons to be attached to said bonds.

6. The technical form and language of said bonds and of the interest coupons to be attached thereto.

In determining the date or dates of maturity of the said bonds and the amount of bonds maturing at each date of maturity, the State School Building Finance Committee shall be guided by the amounts and dates of maturity of the receipts estimated to accrue to the Public School Building Loan Fund from the transactions to be financed by each issue, and shall fix and determine said dates and amounts in such manner that, together with the dates and amounts of interest payments on the said bond issue, they shall coincide, as nearly as practicable, with the dates and amounts of such estimated receipts; provided, the bonds first to mature in each issue shall mature not later than five years and the bonds last to mature in each issue shall mature not later than forty-five years from the date of issuance thereof.

The rate of interest to be borne by the bonds need not be uniform for all bonds of the same issue or series or division, and may be determined and fixed by the State School Building Finance Committee by resolution adopted at or after the sale of said bonds, but not exceeding in any case 5 percent per annum payable semiannually. The highest bid received on the sale of the bonds shall be determined by deducting the total amount of the premium bid (if any) from the total amount of interest which the State would be required to pay from the date of sale to the respective maturity dates of the bonds then offered for sale at the coupon rate or rates specified in the bid, and the award shall be made on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the State. The lowest net interest cost to the State shall be computed between the dates aforesaid according to standard bond interest tables. The interest coupon first payable may, if the State School Building Finance Committee shall so determine and specify, be payable at any time within one year after the date of issuance of said bonds.

5111. All actual and necessary expenses of the State School Building Finance Committee and of the members thereof incurred in the performance of their duties arising out of the provisions of this chapter shall be paid out of the Public School Building Loan Fund, upon approval of the State Board of Control and on Controller's warrant duly drawn for that purpose.

Whenever the State School Building Finance Committee deems that it will increase the salability or the price of the bonds to obtain a legal opinion as to the validity of the bonds, prior to or after sale, from attorneys other than the Attorney General, the committee may authorize the State Treasurer or the Department of Finance or both to obtain such a legal opinion. Payment for such legal services shall be made from the Public School Building Loan Fund, upon approval of the State Board of Control and on Controller's warrant duly drawn for that purpose.

5112. The Controller, the State Treasurer and the State School Building Finance Committee shall keep full and particular account and record of all their proceedings under this chapter and they shall transmit to the Governor an abstract of all such proceedings thereunder, with an annual report, to be by the Governor laid before the Legislature biennially; and all books and papers pertaining to the matter provided for in this chapter shall at all times be open to the inspection of any party interested, or the Governor, or the Attorney General, or a committee of either branch of the Legislature, or a joint committee of both, or any citizen of the State."

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, May 30, 1949

Hon. George J. Hatfield
Senate Chamber

Analysis of the Proposed Banking Code Assembly Bill No. 994, as amended in the Senate May 26, 1949—No. 4806

DEAR SENATOR HATFIELD: Pursuant to your request we have prepared the following analysis of the proposed Banking Code showing the substantive changes proposed to be effected thereby.

The analysis takes into account all amendments to the bill heretofore made in course of its passage.

The proposed code is based almost entirely on the present Bank Act (Deering's General Laws, Act No. 652, 1909:76-87, as amended).

In preparing this analysis we compared the provisions of the bill as introduced with the text of the present law. The resulting analysis was successively modified to reflect the amendments in course of passage.

Throughout the proposed code the language of the present law is rearranged and the manner of expression changed, frequently with no change in legal effect.

If the restatement appeared to be such as the Code Commission would have made, that is, if it consisted of changes in arrangement or language without change in legal effect, it was considered that no change was made. Such instances are noted in the analysis by the expression "No change."

In certain instances in the bill a provision is interpolated which is implied, but not expressed, in the present law or which follows as a necessary consequence of an express provision in the present law. In such instances we have used the term "specifies" to indicate that we think the bill does not add a new provision but simply rounds out the expression of the present law.

The analysis proceeds section by section as the provisions appear in the bill. The first number given is the number of the section in the bill. Following that, and enclosed in parentheses, is an indication of the source of the provision in the present law. A number standing alone within the parentheses is the number of a section in the present Bank Act. The abbreviations used are obvious except perhaps for "Para." which indicates a paragraph of a section. When references are to a sentence of a section all of the text of the sentence down to the period is included, even though the text is divided into subdivisions or includes a subdivision.

The material following the parentheses is directed to the bill unless otherwise specified.

Last Para. (Based on 1st Sent. 54). No change.

751 (Based on 54). Reflects changes made in 750, above. Adds provision that property not held for bank operation must be sold when it can be sold for enough to reimburse bank unless superintendent consents to retention. If consent is given, property must be written down to $1, but consent is not to be given if writing down would encroach on bank's capital and surplus. Provides that bank, by holding such property, is not to engage in business not authorized by code, except to extent necessary for orderly liquidation of the debt owed to bank.

752 (New). Authorizes bank or trust company to acquire and hold not less than 75 percent of shares of corporation engaged in holding banks business property. Requires two-thirds vote of directors and superintendent's approval.

Specifies that membership in F. D. I. C. permits only what is not in conflict with laws of State.

756 (New). Authorizes bank to become member of any federal agency and comply with its requirements but requires authorization by general order of superintendent applicable to classes of banks. Specifies that exercise of powers as such member must not conflict with State law.

757 (Based on 30). Deletes limit of 10 percent on investment in safe deposit department. Specifically authorizes banks to receive personal property for safekeeping or storage on its banking premises.

Permits order to be made without notice if all parties consent. Deletes provision that deposits pursuant to court order shall be preferred claim. Provides for reduction of fiduciary's bond to cover only remainder of estate, rather than to amount court deems reasonable. (Latter change corresponds to Sec. 541.1, Probate Code.)

765 (51.1). No change.

766 (57). In Subds. (d) and (e), provides that lien of bond or assessment shall not be deemed prior encumbrance if unpaid balance, rather than amount thereof, plus amount of loan or investment do not exceed 60 percent of sound market value, rather than market value.

CHAPTER 11. SAVINGS BANKS

Article 1. Investments

Note: The provisions of the proposed code re savings bank investments represent a complete departure from the present law.

While the classes of securities remain generally the same, certification by the superintendent is abandoned, and the code prescribes the limit of investment in, and the qualifications required of the issuing agencies of, the various types of securities.

The provision making eligible without limit bonds eligible in New York or Massachusetts is eliminated.

Authority is given to invest not over 25 percent of paid up capital and surplus, or 1 percent of savings deposit, whichever is the lesser, in securities, other than corporation shares, not specifically authorized in which "in the informed opinion of the bank it is prudent to invest savings funds."

No attempt in the following will be made to explain the full effect of the changes made by the bill other than to show in very general terms how the various types of investments are now treated in the law.

1350 (Based on 1st clause, 61). No change.

1366 (New). Limits investments in bonds of gas, electric, telephone, and water companies. Now eligible if certified by superintendent. (Subd. 6(e) 61.)

1367 (New). Authorizes investment of not over 25 percent of capital and surplus or 1 percent of deposits, in securities, other than corporate stock, if in informed opinion of bank it is prudent to so invest.

1368 (New). Defines deposits to include those represented by certificates and time deposits of public funds.

1369 (New). Provides investments previously made are not affected by codification.

CHAPTER 19. REPEALS

3450 Repeals Bank Act, except 29, 29a, 123.1, and 123.2.

Sections 29 and 29a relate to nonstock corporations. Since the general corporation law does not now authorize formation nonstock corporations these provisions have no prospective operation.

Sections 123.1 and 123.2 relate to the State Banking Fund. Since the fund is appropriated these sections were omitted so that the code would not be a technical appropriation bill. It is our understanding that these sections will be amended into the proposed code by another bill. Whether this is done or not is immaterial so far as the code is concerned.

"SECTION 1. Article 7 of the Community Redevelopment Act is amended and renumbered to read:

Article [7] 4. Redevelopment Agencies

Sec. [33] 18. There is hereby created in each community a [redevelopment agency] public body, corporate and politic, to be known as the redevelopment agency of the community.

Sec. [34] 19. The agency of any community shall not transact any business or exercise any powers hereby granted until the legislative body of the community shall by resolution [adopted by a two-thirds vote] declare at any time hereafter that there is need for a redevelopment agency to function in such community.

Sec. [35] 20. If any suit, action or proceeding involving the validity or enforcement of, or relating to, any contract of or on behalf of an agency, the agency shall be conclusively deemed to have become established and authorized to transact business and exercise its powers upon proof of the adoption of a resolution by the legislative body declaring the need for the redevelopment agency to function.

Sec. [36] 21. When the legislative body of a community first adopts a resolution as provided for in Section 34 of this act, the mayor of a city or of a city and county or the chairman of the board of supervisors of a county, with the approval of the legislative body, shall appoint five resident electors of the community as members of the agency. No member of the agency may be an elective officer or an employee of the community, nor is he to be a member, commissioner or employee of any other agency or authority of, or created by, the community notwithstanding any other provision of law. The powers of each agency shall be vested in the members thereof then in office. Members shall receive their actual and necessary expenses, including traveling expenses incurred by them in discharge of their duties and may receive such other compensation as the legislative body may prescribe or authorize.

Sec. [37] 22. Three of the members who are first appointed shall be designated to serve for terms of one, two, and three years respectively, from the date of their appointments, and two shall be designated to serve for terms of four years from the date of their appointments. Thereafter, members shall be appointed as aforesaid for a term of office of four years, except that all vacancies occurring during a term shall be filled for the unexpired term. A member shall hold office until his successor has been appointed and has qualified.

The appointing officer shall designate which of the members of the agency appointed shall be the first chairman, and when the office of the chairman of the agency becomes vacant thereafter, the agency shall elect a chairman from among its members. The term of office as chairman of the agency, unless otherwise prescribed by the legislative body of the community, shall be for the calendar year, or for that portion thereof remaining after each such chairman is designated or elected.

Sec. [38] 23. For inefficiency or neglect of duty or misconduct in office, a member of an agency may be removed by the [legislative body of the community] appointing officer, but the member may be removed only after he shall have been given a copy of the charges at least 10 days prior to a public hearing thereon and has had an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel. In the event of the removal of any commissioner, a record of the proceedings, together with the charges and findings thereon, shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the community.

Sec. [39] 24. No officer or employee of the community or of the agency who in the course of his duties is required to participate in the formulation of plans or policies for the redevelopment of a project area, or to approve such plans or policies, shall acquire any interest in any property included within a project area within the community. If any such officer or employee owns or has any financial interest, direct or indirect, in any property included within such a project area he shall immediately disclose, in writing, such interest to the agency and the legislative body of the community and such disclosure shall be entered on the minutes of the agency and of the legislative body. Failure to so disclose such interest shall constitute misconduct in office. No agency shall acquire from any of its members or officers any property, or interest therein, except through eminent domain proceedings.

Sec. [40] 25. When the agency created for any community becomes authorized to transact business and exercise its powers, the legislative body of the community may at that time, and from time to time thereafter, [make an estimate of the amount of money required] appropriate such amounts to the agency out of any moneys not appropriated to some other purpose as it deems necessary, for the administrative [purposes,] expenses and overhead of the agency [and may, by a two-thirds vote, appropriate such amounts to the agency as it deems necessary]. The moneys so appropriated may be paid to the agency as a grant to defray said expenses and overhead, or as a loan to be repaid upon such terms and conditions as the legislative body of the community may provide.

Sec. [41] 26. Each agency transacting any business and exercising any powers under this act shall annually submit to the legislative body of the community a proposed budget of its administrative expenses. [Such budget shall be subject to such changes as the legislative body may prescribe, and its preparation and adoption, and the adoption of any changes therein, shall be subject to the same rules which are applicable to other agencies and departments of the community which are subject to budgetary control. No such adoption is effective unless it is concurred in by two thirds of the membership of the legislative body.]

The legislative body may adopt the annual budget for the administrative expenses of the agency in such amounts as it deems necessary and may provide such conditions and restrictions upon the expenditure or incumbrance of the funds appropriated pursuant to said budget as it deems advisable.

The funds appropriated by the legislative body for administrative expenses shall be kept in the treasury of the community in a special fund to be known as the Community Redevelopment Agency Administrative Fund, and funds shall be drawn therefrom to meet the administrative expenses of the agency in substantially the same manner as funds are drawn by other agencies and departments of the community subject to budgetary control.

The funds appropriated by the legislative body of the community to the Community Redevelopment Agency Administrative Fund are funds donated by the community to defray the administrative expenses of the agency which is performing a public function of the community and the grant of funds in this manner is not to be construed as making the agency a department of the community or as placing the officers, agents, counsel and employees under civil service of the community.

Sec. [42] 27. Each such agency shall file with the legislative body a detailed report of all its transactions, including a statement of all receipts and expenditures, at monthly, quarterly, or annual intervals as the legislative body may prescribe.

Sec. [43] 28. At any time after two years after adopting a resolution declaring that there is need for an agency to function in a community, the legislative body thereof, if such agency shall not theretofore have redeveloped or acquired land for, or commenced the redevelopment of, a project, or entered into any contracts for redevelopment, may by resolution declare that there is no further need for such agency in the community. Thereupon the offices of the members of the agency shall be vacated and the capacity of the agency to transact business or exercise any powers shall be suspended and shall remain suspended until the legislative body thereafter adopts a resolution declaring the need for the agency to function.

All moneys received by the agency from the sale, lease or encumbering of property acquired with moneys from the redevelopment revolving fund shall be redeposited in the fund. All other provisions of this act that relate to financing shall be subject to the provisions of this section. Nothing contained in this section shall authorize a redevelopment agency to construct any buildings, but such redevelopment agency shall be subject to the limitations imposed by the provisions of Section [44(i)] 29(k) of this act.

The legislative body shall further be satisfied that such permanent housing facilities shall, in any event, be made available within three years from the time such occupants will be displaced; and that pending the development of such permanent housing facilities, there will be available to such displaced occupants adequate temporary housing facilities at rents comparable to those obtaining in the community at the time of their displacement.

If persons of low income (as defined in the Housing Authorities Law) are to be displaced, the legislative body shall, prior to its approval of the redevelopment plan, obtain and consider the recommendations of the housing authority, if any, authorized to transact business in the community, with respect to the availability and provision of adequate housing for such persons of low income.

Amendment No. 1

In the title of the printed bill, strike out lines 1 to 6, inclusive, and insert

"An act to add Article 5 comprising Sections 16400 to 16403, inclusive, to Chapter 2 of Part 2 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code, relating to the payment of allowances for old age security and security for the blind, creating the Social Welfare Disbursement Fund, providing for the use thereof, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately."

Amendment No. 2

On page 1 of said bill, strike out lines 1 to 16, inclusive, and insert

"SECTION 1. Article 5, comprising Sections 16400 to 16403, inclusive, is added to Chapter 2 of Part 2 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code, to read:

Article 5. Social Welfare Disbursement Fund

16400. A revolving fund in the State Treasury is hereby created, to be known as the Social Welfare Disbursement Fund, which fund may be utilized for the payment of allowances for old age security and security for the blind authorized by law, and for the payment of refunds as provided in this chapter.

16401. Allowances for old age security and security for the blind authorized by law shall be paid from the Social Welfare Disbursement Fund. The amount to be disbursed from the Social Welfare Disbursement Fund shall be determined from the approved claims presented by the Department of Social Welfare for payments for old age security and security for the blind. There shall be transferred to the Social Welfare Disbursement Fund the amount so determined, as follows:

(a) From the Social Welfare Fund such portion of the amount to be disbursed as may have been received by the State from the Federal Government for old age security and security for the blind and deposited in the Social Welfare Fund prior to the date the disbursement thereof is required to be made.

(b) From the General Fund such portion of the amount to be disbursed as may exceed the amount transferred from the Social Welfare Fund under subdivision (a) of this section. If no federal moneys for old age security and security for the blind are available in the Social Welfare Fund at the time the transfers are required to be made under this section, the Controller shall notify the Department of Finance, and the entire amount to be disbursed shall be transferred from the General Fund to the Social Welfare Disbursement Fund; and in that event, the General Fund shall be reimbursed from any federal moneys subsequently paid into the Social Welfare Fund which, by the terms of the federal grant, are applicable to the federal share of any amounts previously transferred from the General Fund to the Social Welfare Disbursement Fund pursuant to this section.

16402. The State's share of refunds or restitutions of amounts disbursed from the Social Welfare Disbursement Fund shall be remitted to the State Treasury for deposit in the General Fund and the federal share for deposit in the Social Welfare Fund.

16403. All amounts increasing the cash balance in the Social Welfare Disbursement Fund as a result of the cancellation, pursuant to law, of warrants issued therefrom shall be transferred to the General Fund and to the Social Welfare Fund in proportion to the original portions of such warrants paid by the State and Federal Governments.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California and as such shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting the necessity:

Under the provisions of Article XXV of the State Constitution, the responsibility for the administration and payment of security for the aged and needy blind has been transferred from the various counties to the State.

Under present statutory provisions, the State would be required to issue two warrants to a recipient of old age security or security for the blind, one from the General Fund, covering the State's share, and one from the Social Welfare Fund, covering the federal share of such security payments. This bill authorizes the State to include in one warrant both the state and federal shares of such security payments made to any recipient thereof.

Because of the large number of warrants of equal or approximately equal amounts that will be issued each month for old age security and security for the blind, the issuance of such warrants against a special fund for that purpose, instead of from the General Fund, will greatly increase the speed and efficiency with which reconciliations of outstanding warrants can be made.

In order to provide a speedy and efficient procedure for making all disbursements for old age security and security for the blind from one fund, and to avoid the needless confusion to the recipients of such security which would result from the receipt by them of separate warrants covering the state and federal shares of such security, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately."

Amendments read, and adopted.

Bill ordered printed, and re-referred to Committee on Social Welfare.

MOTION TO TAKE BILLS FROM THE INACTIVE FILE

Kindly express to the Senate and to yourself, my sincere pleasure and appreciation as the recipient of their kind and thoughtful remembrance.

It is a pleasure and honor to be remembered by such a distinguished and honored body of men as our State Senate and I will remember them and their very competent secretary with love and respect, individually and collectively so long as I am capable of remembering.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, June 6, 1949

To the Honorable Members of the Senate
State of California
Sacramento, California

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith, without my signature,

Senate Bill No. 1216, entitled: "An act to amend Section 19390 of the Government Code, relating to the right of state employees entering the military service to be restored to their former position and civil service status upon termination of such military service."

My objections to this bill are as follows:

This bill would make no change in the law as established by Chapter 34, Statutes 1949, which I have previously approved. That chapter was Assembly Bill 2421, and this bill is a duplicate. Its approval would serve no useful purpose.

Accordingly, I am returning the bill without my signature.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

Message read, and ordered printed in the Journal.

Senate Bill No. 1216 ordered placed on the unfinished business file.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communications were received and read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

THE RECLAMATION BOARD OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
SACRAMENTO, June 8, 1949

Lieutenant Governor Goodwin J. Knight
President of the Senate
The State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR SIR: Pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 103 of the Resolutions of 1949 (Senate Joint Resolution 21) The Reclamation Board on May 18, 1949, rendered invoice No. 1 to the Commissioner, Bureau of Reclamation, United States Department of the Interior, to cover expenditures to May 1, 1949, as made by the State, and did request the commissioner to reimburse the State for such expenditure. A copy of the invoice and of the letter to the commissioner, are attached hereto.

Copies of the invoice, together with copies of the letter to the commissioner were forwarded to Senators Downey and Knowland and to Representative Scudder requesting their assistance in urging California's claim for reimbursement. Copies of these letters are enclosed.

The total amount of the invoice rendered the commissioner was $14,064.56; this amount represents a capital outlay expenditure of $1,905 and a support expenditure of $12,159.56. The support amount representing surveys of levee rights of way required by the U. S. Engineers to set back or reconstruct the levees damaged because of the lowering of water in the Sacramento River, as recited in the act, and also proration of salaries, wages, travel expense, title reports, et cetera, as based upon the ratio that direct charges against this work bears to other activities of The Reclamation Board during the period covered by the invoice.

In the matter of accounting for expenditures chargeable to this operation, the Department of Finance placed an accountant at our disposal in order to set up a method of booking procedure for the billing.

Heavier capital outlay expenditures will be necessary during the approaching fiscal year. Present estimates of total costs of rights of way and incidental right of way costs for complete restoration of the levees, over the twenty-five mile extent of the damaged sections, is $500,000. This expenditure will probably extend over two or three fiscal years.

Further reports will be made periodically.

Yours very truly,

THE RECLAMATION BOARD
A. M. BARTON
Chief Engineer and General Manager

Encl.

Invoice was ordered filed with the Secretary of the Senate.

SEC. 4. Section 207 of the Unemployment Insurance Act is amended to read:

Sec. 207. (a) An individual shall not be eligible for unemployment compensation disability benefits with respect to any [week] period for which the commission finds that he has received or is entitled to receive unemployment compensation benefits under this act or any unemployment compensation act of any other state or of the Federal Government, or with respect to any period of unemployment due primarily to a disability with respect to which he has received or is entitled to receive in the form of cash payments, benefits under any disability insurance or benefits law of any other state or of the Federal Government; provided, that this section shall not apply to pension benefits arising out of services in the armed forces of the United States.

(b) An individual shall not be eligible for unemployment compensation disability benefits for any [week] period of unemployment due primarily to a disability, for which [week] period the commission finds that with respect to such disability he has received, or is entitled to [receive,] claim, in the form of cash payments, benefits under a workmen's compensation law, or employer's liability law of this State, or of any other state, or of the Federal Government; provided, however, that where because of a disputed claim there is doubt and will be delay in respect to the payment of any such workmen's compensation law benefits to an unemployed disabled individual otherwise entitled to benefits under this article, benefits under this article shall be promptly paid if such individual has made application for such workmen's compensation law benefits, is diligently pursuing the procedure required to obtain a determination on such workmen's compensation benefits, and has executed a written lien against any award or settlement against such workmen's compensation benefits covering amounts paid under this article pending such determination; and further provided, that if such benefits are less than the weekly amount he would have otherwise received as disability benefits under Article 10 of this act, he shall be entitled to receive for such [week] period, if otherwise eligible, disability benefits, reduced by the amount of such cash payments.

(c) If payments are made under this article to any individual having a right or claim under an employer's liability law for compensation or damages in whole or in part for or on account of the disability in respect to which such payments were made, the commission shall to the extent of the amount of such payments be entitled to reimbursements out of any sum or damages which such individual receives or is entitled to receive through suit, settlement or judgment. The commission on behalf of the Disability Fund shall to that extent be subrogated to the rights or claims of such individual. Upon notice to the person against whom such right or claim exists or is asserted, the commission shall have a lien upon such right or claim, or on any judgment obtained thereunder, and on any sum or damages paid under such right or claim, to the extent of the amount to which the commission is entitled by way of reimbursement. If any such individual has a right or claim under an employer's liability law but unreasonably refuses or neglets to take the necessary action to enforce his right or claim the commission may take such action or proceedings in the name and in behalf of the individual as it deems necessary to enforce his right or claim. Any sum recovered by the commission in such an action or proceeding through a settlement, judgment, or otherwise, in excess of the amount to which the commission is entitled by way of reimbursement plus the reasonable expenses of the commission in connection with such action or proceeding, shall be held by the commission in trust for the individual in whose behalf the action was undertaken. In the event that the commission undertakes an action or proceeding and fails therein the cost and expenses thereof shall be payable out of the Disability Fund.

An insurer under an approved voluntary plan, or if there be no insurer, an employer under an approved voluntary plan, shall, in respect to payments under any such voluntary plan, have the same remedies as are herein afforded to the commission in respect to payments from the Disability Fund.

Sec. 310. (a) Each insurer insuring approved voluntary plans shall report to the commission the amount of premium tax it has paid to the State of California under Section 14¼ of Article XIII of the Constitution of the State of California on all premiums received by it for unemployment disability insurance and shall support such report by proof of such payment satisfactory to the commission. Each such insurer shall make a similar report to the commission upon payment by it of an additional premium tax on such insurance. The commission shall keep a separate account for each such insurer and credit to that account all sums so reported and charge said account with the amount of the insurer's extended liability assessment. To the extent that there is a credit balance in such account, such assessment shall be deemed collected.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, whenever an approved voluntary plan is insured by an admitted disability insurer, the insurer shall be substituted for the employer with respect to any assessments under this article and under Section 44.2 which relate to the portion of the voluntary plan insured by such insurer.

SEC. 6. Section 403 of the Unemployment Insurance Act is amended to read:

Sec. 403. Unemployment compensation disability benefits shall become payable under this article one year after the effective date of this amendatory act, to eligible individuals with respect to compensable weeks of disability occurring subsequent thereto; provided, however, that if it is determined by the Social Security Board or other higher authority that the worker contributions collected under this act during the calendar year 1944 and 1945, and heretofore deposited or invested in the obligations of the Unemployment Trust Fund of the United States of America, established by Subchapter C of Chapter 9 of the United States Internal Revenue Code, may be withdrawn and expended for the purposes of this article without conflicting with any provisions or conditions of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act or Title 3 of the Social Security Act, in order that employers of this State, subject to the taxes imposed by the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, shall continue to receive the credits and additional credits provided in Sections 1601 and 1602 thereof; then, and in that event such amounts as determined by the commission and not in excess of such worker contributions shall be requisitioned from the Unemployment Trust Fund and deposited in the Disability Fund and benefits shall become payable on and after ninety days from such determination; provided further, in the event funds are so requisitioned from the Unemployment Trust Fund subsequent to July 1, 1947, such funds shall augment the contributions on deposit in the Disability Fund and shall be available for expenditure for the same purposes, except that no portion thereof shall be expended for the purposes of administering this article; provided, however, that the withdrawal of such funds shall only be made to the extent necessary to maintain the Disability Fund at fifty million dollars ($50,000,000).

SEC. 7. Section 452.5 is added to the Unemployment Insurance Act, to read:

Sec. 452.5. Whenever eighty-five percent (85%) of the employees to whom a plan is available have consented to the plan the employer may elect to make the plan applicable to all employees to whom it is available, except those who reject the plan. Such a plan shall not provide for deductions from the wages of an employee covered by the plan of an amount in excess of that which would be required by Section 44, 44.2 and 400 if the employee were not covered by the plan.

In such case, there shall be filed with the commission a notice of election stating that the requisite percentage of employees have consented to the plan and fixing the date upon which the plan will become applicable to all employees to whom it is available.

At least ten days before the date fixed in the notice so filed, a notice shall be posted or circulated in such manner as is reasonably calculated to bring it to the attention of all employees to whom the plan is available but who have not consented thereto. The notice to such employees shall set forth the date the plan is to become applicable and the manner in which an employee may reject it.

The forms of such notices shall be approved by the commission.

From the time fixed in the notice filed with the commission all employees to whom the plan is available shall be deemed to have elected to be covered by the plan, except those who give written notice of rejection prior to the time so fixed. Every person employed after the time so fixed, and to whom the plan is available, shall be deemed to have elected to be covered by the plan from the time of employment unless he rejects the plan prior to or at the time of employment. Each employee at the time of employment shall be given a printed statement setting forth the terms of the plan including a clear statement of the employee's rights respecting [acceptance and] consent to, rejection of, and withdrawal from, the plan.

Any employee covered by a plan may withdraw from the plan at the beginning of any calendar quarter upon giving reasonable notice.

Notices of rejection or withdrawal shall be in writing and directed to the employer."

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the passage of Senate Bill No. 1614.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, June 10, 1949

To the Honorable Members of the Senate
Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN:

Senate Bill No. 1614, "An act making an appropriation in augmentation of the appropriation in Item 11 of the Budget Act of 1948, for legislative printing, binding, mailing, etc., to take effect immediately," in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

The current session of the Legislature will require a greater volume of printing than that anticipated when the budget for the current fiscal year was enacted. In order to meet the cost of this additional printing it is necessary that this bill be passed prior to enactment of the Budget Bill.

I therefore recommend consideration of Senate Bill No. 1614 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, June 14, 1949

To the Members of the Senate of the State of California

GENTLEMEN: This communication is in response to the requests made by your honorable body in Senate Resolution No. 32 of the 1948 Regular Session of the Legislature. The pertinent parts of the resolution are:

> "Resolved, That the Governor of this State is memorialized and urged to determine the reason for the failure of the United States Bureau of Reclamation to provide adequate stand-by facilities for the generation of electrical energy by mechanical means for use in connection with its sale of electrical energy; and be it further
> "Resolved, That the Governor of this State is respectfully requested to advise the Senate as to what legislation is necessary to provide for the immediate construction by both private and public agencies of stand-by facilities for the generation of electrical energy by mechanical means; * * *"

It is assumed in this presentation that "stand-by facilities for the generation of electrical energy by mechanical means" refers to steam-electric plants, and the following statements and comments are restricted to such plants and, further, only as such plants are related to the Central Valley Project.

In connection with the first quoted clause of the resolution, on September 8, 1948, I directed a letter to the Honorable J. A. Krug, Secretary of the Interior, enclosing a copy of the resolution and requesting a report with respect to the activities of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation in providing stand-by generating equipment. A reply, dated October 25, 1948, was received from the Secretary of the Interior, enclosing a memorandum on the subject by the Commissioner of Reclamation. These items are appended hereto and made a part of this report.

In responding to this request, it is believed desirable to present a history of the position the State of California has taken concerning the necessity of electric stand-by facilities for the Central Valley Project as disclosed by the record, as well as the record of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation in that regard. Therefore, there follow chronologically, references to reports prepared by the State of California, some of which were approved by the Water Project Authority of the State of California during the time I was a member of that body, and references to actions and appearances on behalf of the State of California and the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation respecting such facilities.

REPORTS ON STUDIES SHOWING THE NECESSITY OF A STEAM-ELECTRIC POWER PLANT IN THE DELTA REGION AT OR NEAR ANTIOCH

Steam-electric capacity in connection with the hydroelectric power development on Central Valley Project is not a new idea. Reports issued by the State prior to the enactment of the Central Valley Project Act of 1933 recognized the necessity of auxiliary steam-electric capacity to firm the hydroelectric output from the proposed project. The firming of the estimated hydroelectric output was determined to be necessary, so that a dependable power supply could be furnished on an assured basis, to provide necessary standby to assure uninterrupted power service in case of breakdown or outage of generating or transmission facilities and to obtain the maximum economic returns from the hydroelectric power made available.

In 1929 a report [1] was made on the proposed Kennett (now Shasta) Dam and Power Plant, including power output and value of power in consideration of preliminary plans for disposal thereof. The report stated that if the State contemplated delivery of power comparable in continuity to that now delivered by existing utilities, a steam-electric standby plant would be required.

Rather extensive reports [2] were prepared by the State in 1927 and 1931 on the water resources of California and on a coordinated plan for the development of the Sacramento River Basin, including power features. In these reports, the future need of steam standby facilities to firm hydroelectric power, was pointed out.

In 1934 an application was made to the Federal Power Commission by the Water Project Authority for a license to construct the Central Valley Project, and in the same year application was made by the Water Project Authority to the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works for approval of a grant and loan. These applications also contemplated the necessity of steam-electric capacity in connection with the development of hydroelectric power. Subsequently the application as made to the Public Works Administration was included in an executive order issued by President Roosevelt on September 10, 1935, allotting initial funds to start construction of the Central Valley Project, including "a 30,000 kilowatt steam-electric plant costing $3,500,000." However, no part of this allotment was utilized for the standby plant purpose.

In 1935, a report [3] was made to the Water Project Authority which stated that if all or a portion of the power output of Central Valley Project is to be disposed of independently of the private utility system and sold in whole or in part to public utility districts or other agencies, an auxiliary steam-electric plant located at or near Antioch would be required. It was also stated that it might be desirable to construct and operate an auxiliary steam-electric plant in order to provide for firm power deliveries under the characteristics of the load to be served, regardless of the method of disposal. In 1938 a report [4] to the authority on the same subject contained a similar conclusion.

A report [5] made to the authority in 1940 contains the statement that under an independent plan of power disposal to public agencies, as well as to furnish power required in the operation of the project, it would be necessary to provide an auxiliary steam-electric plant to operate in conjunction with the hydroelectric plant. Such standby plant was also held to be necessary in order to obtain a maximum dependable capacity and the fullest utilization of the energy potentially available from Shasta Power Plant and thereby obtain the maximum value from the generation of hydroelectric power.

In 1941, a memorandum report [6] to the authority, by its executive officer, gave the following reasons why a steam-electric plant is essential as an auxiliary unit of the Central Valley Project:

"1. To "firm" the hydroelectric output of the project so that it may be sold commercially to consumers, either public or private, on an assured dependable basis; and so that power may be assured at all times for project pumping requirements, including the demands on the San Joaquin Pumping System and the Contra Costa Canal.

"2. To provide necessary standby in order to assure power service in case of breakdown or outage of generating or transmission facilities.

"3. To obtain the maximum economic returns from the hydroelectric power to be made available by the project."

Again in 1941, a report [7] to the authority on the electric power facilities of the State Water Plan contains the statement that the necessity of steam-electric capacity in conjunction with the proposed hydroelectric developments was also recognized and pointed out in the reports [8] on the State Water Plan, and that further studies prepared in subsequent reports verified this necessity. It was further stated that the construction of a standby plant was proposed and had from the beginning been considered as an integral feature of the Central Valley Project.

A report [9] was made to the Water Project Authority in 1942 on the subject of auxiliary power facilities. The war emergency prevailed at the time of that report; however, the summary and conclusions made therein are generally applicable to the situation at the present time. The summary and conclusions can be briefly stated as follows:

(1) Auxiliary steam-electric capacity is essential for firming the hydroelectric power output of the Central Valley Project and providing necessary standby in order to (1) assure uninterrupted power service and a dependable power supply for project pumping and commercial use; and (2) obtain maximum utilization of and maximum economic returns from the hydroelectric output of the project.

(2) Present federal laws and policies provide for giving preference to public agencies in the sale and disposal of electric power developed by federal projects. The practical application of this preference, as provided by the Federal Reclamation Project Act of 1939, requires that power output be made available for sale to public agencies on an assured dependable basis. For this purpose an auxiliary steam-electric plant is essential.

(3) If a steam-electric plant is not provided as an integral unit of the project, public agencies would find it difficult, if not impossible, to obtain project power output, and as a practical matter there would be but one customer for the hydroelectric power output of the project, namely, the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

(4) The Central Valley Project Act of 1933, the state act authorizing construction of the project, contemplated the necessity of and authorized the inclusion of steam standby facilities; and studies and reports made by the State on the subject have recognized from the beginning the necessity of standby facilities for firming the hydroelectric output, and for obtaining the maximum financial returns from the disposal of power.

(5) A steam-electric plant of 150,000 kilowatts capacity should be constructed immediately as a unit of the Central Valley Project.

In the designated official reports, there are also references to the drought periods to be anticipated within the watersheds of the Central Valley Project service area, and that drought conditions reduce hydroelectric output at the very time heavier demands on power are made by farmers for pumping to irrigate their crops.

State Laws and Policies

The Central Valley Project Act of 1933 (Ch. 1042, Stat. of 1933) by codification is now Part 3, Division 6 of the Water Code. Section 4 of the original act, now Section 11295 of the Water Code, is as follows:

"In addition to the works specified, the units shall include such plants and works for the generation of electric power by steam or other power, and such electric transmission lines and facilities for the sale, use, and distribution of electric power as the authority determines to be necessary for making a reasonable, proper, and advantageous sale, use, and distribution of electric power made available by the units."

On January 5, 1934, the Water Project Authority, at its first official meeting, approved and adopted plans for the Central Valley Project, including the units specifically authorized in the Central Valley Project Act of 1933.

Between 1934 and 1940, under direction of the Water Project Authority, studies were made of the estimated electric power output of the Central Valley Project and the capacity and type of electric generating facilities required. It was the conclusion of reports based on such studies that an auxiliary steam-electric plant is required to supplement and firm the hydroelectric output in order to assure the successful operation of the project.

On October 30, 1941, the Water Project Authority adopted a resolution stressing the necessity of a steam-electric plant as an integral part of the Central Valley Project and urging the construction of a plant of approximately 150,000 kilowatts capacity, located in the vicinity of Antioch in Contra Costa County.

On January 27, 1942, a resolution was adopted by the authority urging the immediate construction of a steam-electric plant of 150,000 kilowatt capacity and also necessary transmission facilities so that such units would be available by late 1943 or early 1944, at the time then scheduled for the Shasta and Keswick power plants to be brought into operation.

At a meeting held February 24, 1948, the Water Project Authority adopted a resolution calling attention to the fact that 11 years had elapsed since commencement of construction of the Central Valley Project by the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation, and several major and necessary features of the project, including a steam-electric plant, were not completed or had not been commenced. Attention was also called to the second season of subnormal precipitation in California and that protection of the federal investment in the project and revenues for repayment of the reimbursable costs required completion of all features with maximum possible dispatch. By said resolution an appropriation was requested by Congress for the construction of the Delta steam-electric plant, as well as other facilities and units of the project.

REQUESTS FOR APPROPRIATIONS BY CONGRESS MADE BY REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA, AND APPROPRIATION REQUESTS OF U. S. BUREAU OF RECLAMATION

Fiscal Year ending June 30, 1942

As expressed in the resolution adopted by the Water Project Authority on October 29, 1940, an over-all appropriation request for Central Valley Project was made during 1941, and at the Appropriations Committee hearings before both the House and the Senate, the necessity for constructing a steam-electric plant was stressed by representatives of the Water Project Authority and by members of the California delegation in the Congress.

On April 3, 1941, at the time I was Attorney General and member of the Water Project Authority, I received the following telegram from Congressman Albert E. Carter, who was then a member of the Appropriations Committee of the House:

"Has California State Power Commission, of which you are a member, approved proposal to establish steam plant in connection with Shasta power development? Please reply fast wire. Reply postal. Albert E. Carter, Member of Congress."

I replied as follows to him on the same date, April 3, 1941:

"Hon. Albert E. Carter, Member of Congress, California District, House Office Building, Washington, D. C. Replying to your wire regarding proposed steam plant in connection with Shasta power development, in order to firm the power developed at Shasta Dam there must be auxiliary steam power. The Central Valley Act itself authorizes necessary steam plants, Item 7, Section 4, Chapter 1042, Statutes 1933. It has always been taken for granted by the Water Project Authority, of which I have been a member since January, 1939, that some such firming agency is essential to the plan, and at least since 1935 it has been commonly understood that a steam plant in the neighborhood of Antioch, which is most convenient to the center of the load, is advisable for the project. The minutes are not available to me at this moment, and I do not know whether formal action of this kind has been taken by the authority, but it has always been assumed this was part of the project. Will be glad to furnish any further information desired. Best regards. Earl Warren, Attorney General."

The U. S. Bureau of Reclamation requested for the Fiscal Year 1942 an appropriation of $4,000,000 for initiating construction of a 150,000 kilowatt steam-electric plant in the Delta area, but despite support of said item by both the State and the bureau, the requested appropriation for this purpose was eliminated by the House Appropriations Committee. An effort was made to have the Senate Appropriations Committee reinstate the requested appropriation item of $4,000,000 but funds for this purpose were denied by Congress. During the hearings before both the House and Senate Appropriations Committees, representatives of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company opposed any appropriation for standby facilities.

Fiscal Year ending June 30, 1943

The budget for the Department of the Interior submitted to Congress for the 1943 Fiscal Year included an amount of $5,000,000 for initiating construction of a steam-electric plant, to be expended during that fiscal year. Representatives of the Water Project Authority and congressional representatives from California urged such appropriation before both the House and Senate Appropriations Committees.

This item again was opposed by the Pacific Gas & Electric Company. A consideration of the item on its merits was further complicated by the scarcity of vital materials required in the war effort and the delays occasioned under the priority system imposed by the Federal Government.

The State of California and the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation consistently supported this appropriation item, but Congress reduced the requested appropriation and approved expenditure of $200,000 to initiate plans and designs for a 150,000 kilowatt steam-electric plant.

Fiscal Year ending June 30, 1944

No funds for an auxiliary steam-electric plant were included in the presidential budget request for the Fiscal Year 1944. However, the Executive Officer of the Water Project Authority, several members of the congressional delegation from California, and other persons interested in the project appeared before the Appropriations Committees of both houses of Congress urging that the construction of the project be expedited insofar as the shortage of materials due to the war emergency would permit. Because of the more urgent need that other features of the project be completed, the representatives of the State of California did not specifically request appropriation for construction of the standby plant. The U. S. Bureau of Reclamation also did not request appropriation for this item.

Fiscal Year ending June 30, 1945

No funds for the standby plant were included in the presidential budget request for this fiscal year. The State of California likewise made no request that appropriation be made for this item, but a representative of the Water Project Authority appeared before the Appropriations Committees of both Houses of Congress and reported on the construction progress being made on the Central Valley Project. The representative of the State pointed out the desirability that adequate appropriations be made for early completion of construction of the project in order that food might be produced which was vitally needed during the war emergency. At that time the War Food Administration had submitted a report favoring the construction of some of the major features of the project, including the Friant-Kern Canal, but clearance was not received from the War Manpower Commission and the War Production Board.

Fiscal Year ending June 30, 1946

The executive officer, in a statement presented to the Interior Subcommittee of the Appropriations Committee, United States Senate, again stressed the need for a steam-electric plant, and recommended that the item of $115,300 for the Delta Steam Power Plant be restored to the bill as passed by the House of Representatives.

The presidential budget request, pursuant to representations of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation, included an appropriation item for the standby plant of $115,000. The Pacific Gas and Electric Company again opposed such appropriation, and the bill as passed, omitted this item.

Fiscal Year ending June 30, 1947

No funds for a standby plant appeared in the presidential budget request for the Fiscal Year 1947, but the State of California requested an appropriation for this item of $150,000. A representative of the Water Project Authority appeared before the Appropriations Committees of both Houses and submitted a copy of a resolution adopted by the Water Project Authority on January 8, 1946, reminding Congress that many major and necessary features of the Central Valley Project were not completed or had not been commenced and that it was vitally important that these features be completed as soon as possible. The resolution of the authority also requested Congress to appropriate for the 1947 Fiscal Year the sum of at least $50,000,000 to be expended with other funds presently available on all features of the project. The appropriation for the standby plant was urged by the state representative in order that the plant might be constructed without delay.

The Bureau of Reclamation did not request an appropriation for a standby plant and no appropriation was made by Congress for this purpose during the 1947 Fiscal Year.

Fiscal Year ending June 30, 1948

Representatives of the State of California requested an appropriation in the sum of $250,000 for initiating construction of the standby plant. I appeared on behalf of this appropriation before the Interior Department Subcommittee of the House Committee on Appropriations on February 13, 1947, and also before the subcommittee of the Senate Appropriations Committee on May 10, 1947. Other representatives of the State of California also appeared before these committees in support of the appropriation.

No funds for a standby plant were included in the presidential budget request and none were sought by the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation. No appropriation was made by Congress for this purpose.

Representatives of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company again appeared in opposition to the State's request for said appropriation.

Fiscal Year ending June 30, 1949

The presidential budget for this year included the sum of $200,000 for the standby plant, and representatives of the State of California again requested the sum of $250,000 for this purpose. Senator Knowland appeared before the subcommittee of the Appropriations Committee of the Senate and presented a statement by me in support of the appropriation. The Executive Officer of the Water Project Authority also appeared before the Senate and House Appropriations Committees and presented a report and budget on behalf of the authority. However, opposition to the standby plant item again was made by the Pacific Gas & Electric Company and the appropriation bill as passed contained no funds for this purpose. My statement before the Senate Appropriations Committee is appended to this report.

The Bureau of Reclamation supported this item, although its original request was for the sum of $200,000.

Sincerely,

EARL WARREN, Governor

Attachs.

Statement of Earl Warren, Governor of the State of California, Presented to the Subcommittees of Appropriations Committee of United States Senate, With Reference to an Appropriation for the Central Valley Project, California, for the Fiscal Year 1949

June 4, 1948

MR. CHAIRMAN AND MEMBERS OF THE COMMITTEE:

This statement is presented to your honorable committee for and in behalf of an ample appropriation of funds for the continuation of the construction of the Central Valley Project, California, during the Fiscal Year 1949. I regret that due to other pressing matters, I have been unable at this time to appear personally before your committee, as I have had the privilege of doing on several occasions, and make a request for funds for the early completion of this necessary and worthy project. Therefore, I have delegated Senator Knowland to present this statement to your committee.

As you well know, funds for the commencement of construction of this project were allocated by Executive Order in September, 1935. The project was finally authorized for construction in 1937. Funds in the amount of $231,445,110 have been made available for its construction. The latest figure announced by the United States Bureau of Reclamation for the ultimate cost of the project as authorized is $411,085,000. Therefore, it may be seen that only about 56 percent of the project cost has been appropriated and about 44 percent, or approximately the sum of $180,000,000 is required for its completion.

Actual construction on the project started 11 years ago and it is our hope that all major and necessary features may be completed and in operation by the year 1951. The Shasta Reservoir has in storage at this time 3,700,000 acre-feet of water, the maximum amount of water it can store without the drum gates on the spillway crest installed, which, when installed, will provide an additional storage capacity of 800,000 acre-feet. This major feature with its appurtenant electric power plant has been and is now demonstrating its usefulness for the purposes for which it is designed and constructed. It controls floods on the Sacramento River. It adds to the flow of the Sacramento River during the low water season providing navigable depths in the river, furnishing water to hundreds of diverters from the river and from the channels of the Sacramento and San Joaquin delta, and preventing the incursion of saline ocean water into the lower delta. With the completion of the Delta Cross Channel, Delta Mendota Canal, and Friant-Kern Canal, the Shasta Reservoir through the operation of these latter units will be able to furnish badly needed supplemental water to lands in Madera, Fresno, Kings, Tulare, and Kern Counties in the Southern San Joaquin Valley. The only canals constructed and in partial operation at this time are the Contra Costa Canal, taking out of the San Joaquin delta; and the Madera Canal diverting from the Friant Reservoir, which is practically completed and is supplying water to the Madera Irrigation District through the Madera Canal. However, full water benefits from the Shasta Reservoir cannot be realized until the spillway drum gates are installed and all of the foregoing canals are constructed and in operation. It is imperative that ample funds be provided to achieve that objective without further delay.

Another important phase of the Central Valley Project development is electric power which has been produced at Shasta Dam since July 1944. Additional power facilities are to be installed at the Shasta power plant and at the Keswick afterbay dam. The total installed capacity will be 450,000 kilowatts, with an average annual output of 1,800 million kilowatt hours. The present output with three generators at Shasta power plant operating, is about 250,000 kilowatts. The power is presently sold at the Cottonwood substation, 25 miles from the Shasta power plant, under contract to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, which contract terminates in December 1948. To date, the project has earned under this contract about $12,000,000.

In connection with the use and disposal of water from the project, main canals are required to convey the project water to public districts in the San Joaquin Valley and in other sections for distribution within the respective service areas. Likewise, main transmission lines are required to carry the power from the points of generation to points of distribution. They are a necessary part of the Central Valley Project works. They were authorized in the Central Valley Project Act of 1933, which was approved in a state-wide referendum election in that year. Furthermore, the feasibility order signed by the President of the United States on December 2, 1935, provided for main transmission lines for the Central Valley Project.

It was recognized in 1933 by the proponents of the Central Valley Project in California, that the sale of electric power from the project to only one possible customer would not result in the best financial return, and in the long run, this is bound to be true. Although, at the present time, the private company is desirous of obtaining project power and is no doubt willing to pay a fair price for it, this has not always been the case, and may not be so in the future. For example, the Pacific Gas and Electric Company circulated a letter, dated December 12, 1933, to stockholders and bondholders of the company, which stated in part as follows:

> "At present there is a surplus of power in all California. This company has ten power houses shut down and its engineers report enough power available to take care of all growth until 1945. This means that there is no market for additional power and that the revenue which the proponents so freely predict cannot possibly be earned."

Contradictory to the foregoing claim of the company, it should be pointed out that nearly 500,000 kilowatts of additional capacity were installed by 1945 and that over 600,000 kilowatts of additional generating capacity have been installed since December 1933, and are presently in operation to meet still growing power demands in its service area.

It should also be pointed out that the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, in appearing recently before the Federal Power Commission for a license to construct additional hydroelectric facilities, put in evidence its construction program of new generating capacity for the ensuing three years, amounting to 1,439,700 kilowatts. In view of this large addition of generating capacity, it is quite evident a corresponding increase of main transmission facilities will be required.

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company has consistently opposed federal appropriations for transmission lines, claiming, among other things, that it has ample facilities to transmit the power generated at Shasta and Keswick power plants to points of utilization. Studies by the engineering staff of the State Engineer show that the Pacific Gas and Electric Company does not now have sufficient primary transmission line capacity to dependably transmit south from Shasta substation the power output from the Shasta and Keswick plants of the Central Valley Project and the output of the Pit River plants of the company. Additional primary transmission facilities are required for such purposes.

As to federal policy regarding the construction of electric power transmission lines, Congress has repeatedly made appropriations for the construction of primary transmission lines as a part of the Central Valley Project, including the main West Side transmission line, as follows:

Interior Department Appropriation Act of 1942, approved June 28, 1941	$1,100,000
Third Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, approved December 17, 1941	3,000,000
Interior Department Appropriation Act, 1943, approved July 2, 1942	3,723,000
Interior Department Appropriation Act, 1944, approved July 12, 1943	400,000
First Deficiency Appropriation Act, 1946, approved December 28, 1945	780,000
Interior Department Appropriation Act, 1947, approved July 1, 1946	1,060,000
Interior Department Appropriation Act, 1948, approved July 25, 1947	2,034,680

The electric power generating facilities of the project should be completed as soon as possible to assist in meeting the rapidly increasing power demands in Northern California and to provide the maximum possible revenues therefrom for retiring the federal investment in the project. In addition to the generating features, provision also should and must be made for transmitting that power for project use, to public agencies for distribution, and to the military establishments so that the benefit from the expenditure of public funds may be fully realized. Such latter facilities comprise main transmission lines, including the West Side line, switchyards, substations, and other necessary works.

In conclusion, I respectfully urge your committee to support the request of the Water Project Authority of the State of California for an appropriation of $55,607,000 to the Department of Interior for the Central Valley Project, California, for the Fiscal Year 1949, this sum to be expended on the features and in the amounts listed in the resolution of the Water Project Authority, dated February 24, 1948, as follows:

Shasta Dam and Reservoir and Appurtenant Works	$4,479,000
Shasta Power Plant	613,000
Keswick Dam	1,835,000
Keswick Power Plant	719,000
Contra Costa Canal	560,000
Delta Mendota Canal	20,000,000
Friant Dam and Reservoir	597,000
Friant-Kern Canal	18,000,000
Madera Canal	167,000
West Side Transmission Line	3,000,000
Oroville-Tracy Transmission Line	1,837,000
Switchyards	3,000,000
Substations	50,000
Delta Steam-Electric Plant	250,000
Water Rights and Miscellaneous Irrigation Facilities	500,000

Thanking you for the privilege of submitting this statement to your committee, I am

Sincerely yours,

EARL WARREN, Governor

Secretary of the Interior
Washington, D. C.

MY DEAR SECRETARY: The Senate of California adopted a resolution, copy of which is enclosed, which calls for a report from me relative to the Bureau of Reclamation and its activities in providing stand-by generating equipment.

While I am familiar with the history of the bureau in this regard, it would be helpful if you would provide me with such report as you believe would be of assistance in preparing the report to the Senate which the resolution calls for.

Your assistance in this regard would be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

EARL WARREN, Governor

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR
Office of the Secretary

WASHINGTON 25, D. C., October 25, 1948

MY DEAR GOVERNOR WARREN: It gives me great pleasure to present our views concerning the standby steam plant referred to in Resolution No. 32 as passed by the Senate of California and submitted by your letter of September 8th.

For years officials of the Bureau of Reclamation and the Department of the Interior have sought funds to construct steam standby facilities for the Central Valley Project. Throughout these years officials of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company have appeared at every opportunity before congressional subcommittees on appropriations in strong opposition to the appropriation of funds for construction of such standby facilities. Company officials have also publicly denounced the Department of the Interior and the Bureau of Reclamation as being wasteful in the use of public funds by proposing the construction of such facilities. You probably know, as well as almost everyone in the great Central Valley of California, that as a result of such tactics, the bureau was unable to proceed with planned construction of facilities to assist in meeting the area power loads.

The Bureau of Reclamation has recognized the imminence of inadequate electric generating capacity in California since 1941 when funds were first requested for steam standby facilities. During 1946 Mr. James B. Black, President of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, testified that there is no power shortage, there has been none, and there will be none in the future. Everyone knows what happened in the early part of 1948 when the Central Valley experienced one of the most acute power shortages in its history and in the Nation. Certain industrial plants, chemical plants in particular, had to curtail or stop production, irrigation pumping had to be curtailed at the very time when additional water was required from subsurface sources, and many other activities were curtailed or seriously affected.

In spite of this serious situation, which may well be repeated in the future, Mr. James B. Black, President of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, testified, just a few months after the power shortage had curtailed California loads, that the construction of the standby steam plant by the Bureau of Reclamation was not necessary. The Eightieth Congress, in spite of the power shortage, recognized Mr. Black's plea and again denied funds for initiating work on a standby steam plant.

We are gravely concerned at the critical situation which has resulted from the action of Congress in not making these funds available. From past testimony before congressional subcommittees on appropriations, it is apparent that government officials were alert to the possibility of a power shortage, and that responsible officials of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company were likewise alert, but, for reasons best known to themselves, deliberately concealed from appropriation subcommittees facts to which they had testified before the Federal Power Commission.

I have attached a copy of a memorandum from Commissioner Straus to me giving further details of the history of requests for appropriations for a Central Valley project steam plant.

Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM E. WARNE

Memorandum

To: Secretary J. A. Krug
From: Commissioner
Subject: History of Requests for Appropriations for Construction of Delta (Antioch) Steam Plant—Central Valley Project.

The history of requests for appropriations for construction of the authorized steam plant on the Central Valley Project has been lengthy and controversial—controversial, not so much from the standpoint of necessity for "firming up" hydro plant generation at Shasta and Keswick, which need has been recognized by officials of both the Bureau of Reclamation and the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, but from the standpoint of whether the people of California or the Pacific Gas and Electric Company were to derive benefit from the project. Extensive testimony on this issue has been presented to the congressional subcommittees on appropriations of both the House and Senate from 1941 to the present time. Quotations from the recorded hearings showing the need for the project steam generating plant and the oppositions presented by officials of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company would be voluminous. A summary, therefore, will be presented herein, with a statement of my views and quotations from the most pertinent testimony. A bibliography of the reference hearings is also included.

Early studies made by reclamation engineers indicated that periods of drought could be expected on the water sheds of the Central Valley in California. During such periods of drought the production of hydroelectric energy would be seriously reduced resulting in jeopardizing the power supply for not only project irrigation pumping operations but for pump irrigation and other uses throughout the area. In an area where hydro generation plays such an important part drought conditions aggravate power shortages. The Pacific Gas and Electric Company system, according to the latest Federal Power Commission report, has 921,240 kilowatts installed in hydro plants and 619,971 kilowatts installed in steam plants. In the Central Valley where heavy demands are placed on power supplies for irrigation pumping, drought conditions have a twofold effect. During dry seasons, heavier demands are placed on underground sources to save crops resulting in increased demand for pumping power at the very time when the same drought conditions reduce the amount of water available for hydro generation. The urgent need for steam generating plants to provide assured power during low water years was predicated on these considerations.

Prior to request for funds for Fiscal Year 1942, to initiate construction of a steam plant on the Central Valley Project, it appeared that adequate steam generation would be available to meet the needs in the immediate future but eventually a government constructed steam plant would be required for firming the output of Shasta and Keswick Dams. Early in 1941, however, it became apparent to officials of the Federal Power Commission, the Department of the Interior, and the Bureau of Reclamation that a power shortage would exist in Northern California as a result of the National Defense Preparedness Program.

As a result, a supplemental request for appropriations for Fiscal Year 1942, in the amount of $4,000,000, was forwarded to the Congress for initiating construction of a 150,000-kilowatt steam plant in the Delta area. Officials of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company appeared before both the Senate and House subcommittees on appropriations and testified against the appropriation of funds for the construction of the steam plant. Funds were denied by the Congress.

Funds were again requested in the amount of $5,000,000 for initiating construction of the steam plant in Fiscal Year of 1943. Officials of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company again testified against such an appropriation. The amount of $200,000, however, was appropriated to initiate plans and designs for a 150,000-kilowatt steam plant.

No funds were requested for Fiscal Year 1944 but officials of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company appeared before the subcommittee to testify against the need for construction of the steam plant and transmission lines.

No funds were requested for Fiscal Year 1945 and no appearance was made by officials of the power company.

The amount of $115,000 was requested for Fiscal Year 1946 for completing necessary plans for initiating construction. Studies made subsequent to Fiscal Year 1943 indicated that the steam plant capacity should be increased to 240,000 kilowatts to adequately provide for the project power requirements. Officials of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company again testified against this appropriation and no funds were appropriated.

No funds were requested for Fiscal Year 1947 and Fiscal Year 1948 but company officials testified that the steam plant was unnecessary. The amount of $200,000 was requested for Fiscal Year 1949 to prepare plans and specifications for a steam plant to be located near the vicinity of the Tracy pumping plant. The change in location resulted from the previous site being acquired for a paper mill which was constructed. Officials of the company again testified against the need for this appropriation and funds were denied.

Officials of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, especially Mr. J. B. Black, President, were very effective in persuading the appropriations subcommittees that a project steam plant was entirely unnecessary. Although officials of the company testified before the Federal Power Commission that there was need for additional generating capacity in the Central Valley, they testified before the House and Senate subcommittees on appropriations that adequate power would be available.

During hearings before the House Subcommittee on Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1947, Mr. J. B. Black made this famous statement in response to the question, "Is there any (power) shortage now?" whereupon Mr. Black testified, "There is none now; there has been none, and there will be none in the future." We all know that in the early part of 1948, less than two years later, the Central Valley of California experienced one of the most acute power shortages that has ever been faced in its history. Since 1941 officials of the Bureau of Reclamation testified that a serious power shortage could be expected. Officials of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company consistently denied such possibility. However, the company, from 1941 to 1944, added 350,000 kilowatts of capacity, half of which was steam electric. It has embarked upon an expansion program of approximately $300,000,000 to be expended in the five years 1947 to 1951, inclusive. This is clear evidence that the company, although realizing the need for additional generating capacity, was insistent upon controlling the construction program of the Central Valley Project in order to maintain its present monopoly.

Restrictions relative to the construction of power facilities contained in Public Law 841, Eightieth Congress, Second Session, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, fiscal year ending June 30, 1949, are consistent with efforts of the private power utilities to force federal power sales at the bus bar. They are consistent also with the policy announced by Congressman Dondero during the Eightieth Congress. The most persistent opposition to the construction of transmission lines and necessary auxiliary steam plants has been presented by officials of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company at hearings relative to the Central Valley Project appropriations.

I am still of the opinion that the construction of transmission lines to major load centers and project pumping plants and the necessary auxiliary steam plant must be built as an integral part of the Central Valley Project to assure adequate firm power for project pumping, adequate funds for repayment of project costs, and to provide adequate power for irrigation pumping, rural and municipal needs in accordance with the established reclamation law.

Pertinent excerpts from testimony given over the years are included as addenda. Enclosure 898.

EXCERPTS OF TESTIMONY RELATED TO CONSTRUCTION OF A STEAM PLANT, CENTRAL VALLEY PROJECT

Excerpts from testimony given by Commissioner Page of the Bureau of Reclamation, and shown on page 745 of the Hearings before the Subcommittee of the House on Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1942, are as follows:

"Mr. Leavy. What has been the change, or is there anything that has come into this picture that would warrant you now in approving an additional $13,750,000?

"Mr. Page. Yes, sir. The national defense program has entirely changed the situation in that California territory, both from the standpoint of irrigational requirements and production of crops, and also in the demand for electric power. The Federal Power Commission furnishes us information indicating that at the present time there is an acute shortage of power in Northern California, and that would be still more acute except that 150,000 kilowatts are being transferred from Southern California north, and that may soon have to be withdrawn to the defense industries in Southern California, which will leave Northern California critically short. Their estimates show that in 1947, for instance, including all the plants that are now proposed in Northern California, there will still be a shortage of 907,000 kilowatts of generating capacity.

"Mr. Leavy. If you speed up this program as is proposed by these added appropriations, how soon can any power come from this project?

"Mr. Page. Late in 1943 is about the earliest that we can make either the steam plant or the Shasta power output available.

"Mr. Leavy. And how much?

"Mr. Page. The total installed capacity of all the units which are proposed in this budget is about 600,000 kilowatts. There is not available 600,000 kilowatts of firm power, because the water supply will not permit you to call all of that installed capacity firm power. That is, there are years in which the water is not available to operate the whole installed capacity at a year-round and day and night firm rate."

"Mr. Page. * * * We must interconnect the Shasta plant and the Keswick plant, immediately below, and the steam plant, so that we can firm up the Shasta power.

"That is the principal purpose of the steam plant, to firm up a fluctuating supply from Shasta and Keswick of hydro-power.

"Mr. Sheppard. The steam plant, in other words, would enable you to hold it against a possible reduction in water?

"Mr. Page. That is right, and to save water.

"Mr. Sheppard. The installation of your steam plant at Antioch is a most imperative and necessary part of the construction; is it not?

"Mr. Page. Yes, sir. It has always been in the picture. It has been forced a little more rapidly than we anticipated, because the finding made by the Federal Power Commission says that by 1943 and 1944 the territory will have to have—they not only will need, but will have to have—all the output of all the things that are in sight, plus the development by the P. G. & E. on the Feather River, for which they have just recently issued a license. They take into account all those features. In 1947 there will still be a shortage of nine-hundred-and-some-thousand kilowatts of generating capacity in that territory."

Mr. P. M. Downing, Vice President and General Manager, and Mr. John P. Coghlan, Vice President of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, appeared before the same subcommittee and offered testimony in opposition to the request for funds to construct the steam plant. The statements, in effect, denied the possibility of a power shortage in Northern California. Excerpts from the testimony beginning on page 1254 of the Hearings before the Subcommittee of the House on Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1942, are given below:

"Mr. Downing. * * * First, I want to thank you gentlemen for the opportunity of appearing here. Our interest in appearing before your committee arises out of the fact that there appears in the Budget of the Bureau of Reclamation an item of $4,000,000 that being the first appropriation toward the construction of a steam generating plant to be located at or near Antioch in connection with the Central Valley project.

"The arguments that have been advanced in support of this appropriation are three.

"First, an anticipated power shortage in Central and Northern California."

"Considering, first, the anticipated power shortage; we cannot agree with the suggestion that there is now or is liable to be a power shortage in Northern and Central California where it is proposed to construct this plant.

"The Pacific Gas & Electric Co., which I represent, directly or through some of its predecessor companies, has, ever since the beginning of the electrical industry, met every power demand that has been made upon it. And for the past 30 years all of our operations have been regulated by the Railroad Commission of the State of California."

During April of 1941 Mr. Downing testified before the committee on appropriations to the effect that there was no shortage of power in the territory to be covered by the Central Valley Project and that there was no need for any more additional capacity. The company was testifying before the Federal Power Commission that there would be a lack of sufficient generating capacity in the area. Company officials offered this testimony before the commission relative to an application for two hydro-electric plants. This conflicting testimony made before congressional subcommittees and the Federal Power Commission is disclosed from excerpts from the following opinion prepared by the Federal Power Commission:

"United States of America—Federal Power Commission

Opinion No. 54-A

In the matter of Pacific Gas and Electric Company. Project No. 1391

Appearances

For the applicant—Robert H. Gerdes, Esq., San Francisco, California

For the California State Water Project Authority—Northcutt Ely, Esq., 909 American Security Building, Washington, D. C.

For the commission—Walace H. Walker, Esq., Assistant General Counsel; Willard W. Gatchell, Esq., Principal Attorney."

"It is apparent that failure of applicant to advise the commission of its construction schedule and its decision to construct additional generating capacity was due to conflicting purposes which it desired to achieve. Applicant desired a license for construction of two large hydropower developments on the Feather River to give it further control over that important stream. At the same time it opposed construction by the United States of any steam-generating capacity which might be used in competition with its own power system. Because it desired a license from the commission, applicant reported to the commission that there would be a lack of sufficient generating capacity and did not fully disclose to the commission its plans for additional capacity until after such license had been authorized. At the same time, applicant used its decision to construction 82,000 KW of additional generating capacity as an argument against any appropriation by Congress for construction of the Antioch steam plant as part of the Central Valley Project. The Antioch plant, it argued, would be uneconomic because the applicant's construction schedule demonstrated an excess of generating capacity in the area to be served by the Central Valley Project.

"The opposition by applicant to construction by the United States of a steam plant at Antioch is not based upon any lack of understanding as to the necessity or desirability of steam-generating capacity to 'firm up' the power output from the Shasta hydroelectric plant of the Central Valley Project (a plant with high energy output but relatively low firm capacity.)

"Both witnesses Downing and Dreyer admitted that the Central Valley Project would require standby steam capacity if operated as the sole source of power supply for an independent system. The opposition of applicant rather goes to its determination to see that the Central Valley power output is not distributed through a competitive public agency, but that it be distributed by and inure to the benefit of the Pacific Gas and Electric System.

"In addition to these objectives, however, Mr. Downing admitted that if the Antioch steam plant is not built by the United States, his company would not be required to pay as much for any power which it might purchase from the Central Valley Project as it would be required to pay with that plant in operation. Thus, it is evident that by making the Central Valley Project dependent upon the Pacific Gas and Electric System for standby plants to firm up the Shasta power output, the applicant would cut off possible competition, ufilize its own steam generating plants, and purchase power from the Shasta plant at a much lower figure than otherwise.

"* * * the actions of the applicant have not been marked by candor or frankness."

Funds were denied to initiate construction of the steam plant during Fiscal Year 1942. Again the Bureau of Reclamation requested $5,000,000 to initiate construction of the steam plant during Fiscal Year 1943. In the hearings before the Subcommittees on Appropriations, by Mr. James B. Black, President of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, presented substantially the same arguments against appropriations of funds for the steam plant as Mr. Downing in 1941. Mr. Black's testimony, in part, appearing on page 949 of the Hearings before the Subcommittee of the House on Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1943, follows:

"Mr. Black. (Reading) It is not necessary for the Bureau of Reclamation to construct either a steam plant or transmission lines for the Central Valley Project. Their construction by the bureau, either now or hereafter, would involve waste of public money because Pacific Gas & Electric Co. has made an offer to buy all available project power at the Shasta and Keswick plants. It has offered to pay a better price than the project could obtain if the proposed transmission lines and steam plant were to be built and the project's power sold at Antioch. Such appropriations contemplate the investment of some $40,000,000 or more in order to launch the bureau into a new business, the manufacture and sale of electricity by steam, in an endeavor to make the project's byproduct power worth as much as the company will pay for it without such investment. Besides, such construction by the bureau now would require much more labor and strategic materials urgently needed for defense uses than would be necessary under the company's offer."

Representative Voorhis from California testified in behalf of appropriations for the steam plant, his testimony, in part, appearing on page 1007 of the Hearings before the Subcommittee of the House on Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1943, follows:

"Mr. Voorhis. * * * Now, the question as I see it before the committee is whether this power is going to be firm power, or whether it is going to be dump power, and whether it is going to be a situation where there is only going to be one market for the power, or whether you are going to be able to sell it under circumstances which will be beneficial to the project, and hence to the Federal Government's recovery of its investment. I believe that this steam plant at Antioch or at Load Center will be a great improvement. The stream flow will fluctuate, and unless that steam plant is built, a considerable proportion of the 450,000 kilowatts of hydropower will not be prime power, and hence will not be salable directly to municipalities or irrigation districts and people like that, the consequence of which will be that the person purchasing the power will have to firm it up.

"Now, there is only one outfit that can afford to do that, and that is the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. In other words, we are confronted with the situation where either we are going to have this steam plant and the transmission line, or we are going to have to sell this power to the Pacific Gas and Electric purchasing it on its own terms.

"I do not frankly believe that the Pacific Gas and Electric is interested in accomplishing the purposes of the Reclamation Act, or even of our California Act which set up the Central Valley Project. I think that their main interest in this matter is to prevent competition from entering their bailiwick in Northern and Central California, and I think under those circumstances they might be willing to pay rather well for Shasta power at the present time.

"I would like to point out that deals of that sort have been made heretofore, and it would not be difficult to show that certain circumstances had changed in the meantime.

"I recall when this same proposition was up some time ago the Pacific Gas and Electric opposed it on the ground that there was an abundance of power in Northern California, and it was not until afterward that we discovered that the company was at the same time going before the Federal Commission and asking that they be permitted to build additional power plants on the Feather River."

Due to the critical supply situation on steel and materials for electrical equipment, the War Production Board revoked priority ratings for Keswick Dam in December 1942. No request was made for funds for the Antioch steam plant for Fiscal Year 1944, as well as Fiscal Year 1945, however, Mr. Black of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company testified before the Subcommittees on Appropriations against the Delta steam plant as well as other features on the Central Valley Project. The amount of $115,000 was requested for completing plans during Fiscal Year 1946. Studies to date indicate that instead of the 150,000-kilowatt plant it was advisable to raise the capacity to 240,000 kilowatts. The funds requested were to complete these studies and plans for the construction of the steam plant. Mr. Black of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company again appeared before the subcommittees on appropriations to testify against appropriations for this purpose. Excerpt from his testimony, appearing on page 1340 of the Hearings before the Subcommittee of the House on Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1946, is as follows:

"Mr. Black. * * * Construction by the bureau of either a steam plant or a transmission system for the purpose of launching the bureau into a competitive power operation would destroy existing property values and discourage and prevent further investment in taxable property, it would be wasteful of public funds and contrary to the national interest.

"We submit that the appropriations now requested for a steam plant and a transmission system should be denied."

Mr. Black then appeared before the Subcommittee of the House on Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1947 and gave the following testimony which appears on page 617 of the Hearings:

"In denying requests made in the 1946 bill for appropriations for plans and designs for transmission lines, switchyards, and a steam plant, this committee emphasized these facts:

"1. Power now available from the project is being sold near Shasta Dam under a contract which guarantees to the government a fair and equitable price.

"2. Under these conditions it is unnecessary for the government to appropriate funds to construct either a steam plant, estimated to cost $26,000,000, or a transmission system, which would cost approximately $48,000,000, and would not produce greater returns to the government.

"3. There is no unserved market.

"4. The proposed steam plant and transmission system would duplicate if not destroy existing taxpaying facilities.

"What was said then is still true. The market is fully served; the bureau has no customers to justify any investment in transmission lines or a steam plant; to build them would duplicate and destroy existing taxpaying facilities and waste public funds."

Testimony of Mr. Black relative to power supply, appearing on page 630 of the Hearings before the Subcommittee of the House on Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1947, in part, follows:

"Mr. Johnson of Oklahoma. The bureau has represented to this committee that there is a prospect of a shortage of power in that area in the future. Do you say to the committee there is no prospect of any shortage of power in the Central Valley?

"Mr. Black. There is no prospect whatsoever; sir.

"Mr. Johnson of Oklahoma. Is there any shortage now?

"Mr. Black. There is none now; there has been none, and there will be none in the future."

Testimony of Mr. Black relative to the construction program of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, appearing on page 1325 of the Hearings before the Subcommittee of the House on Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1948, in part, follows:

"Mr. Black. I would also like to insert as a third exhibit a memorandum on our construction program.

"The advent of the World War found the company actively engaged upon a large program of plant expansion designed particularly to add to its electric generating, transmission, and distribution facilities. Several of the more essential features of this program were completed in the earlier war years, resulting in the addition to the company's electric-generating system during the years 1941-44 of 350,000 kilowatts, half hydroelectric and half steam-electric capacity. In addition the company had planned to construct two 75,000-kilowatt steam-electric plants but priorities for these plants were denied under wartime controls.

"Immediately following the war the company resumed construction activities on an even larger scale. It expended upward of $44,000,000 in 1946 and its program calls for an additional expenditure of not less than $300,000,000 in the five years 1947 to 1951, inclusive.

"The company's program provides for the addition of about 400,000 kilowatts of steam-electric capacity and 300,000 kilowatts of hydroelectric capacity by the end of 1951. Work is already under way on the principal features, including the two steam plants for which wartime priorities were denied. The first 400,000 kilowatts under this program will be brought in by the end of next year.

"When the 5-year program is completed, the company will have added 700,000 kilowatts to its system. With the 200,000 kilowatts of additional dependable capacity to be brought in by the Central Valley Project, a total of 900,000 kilowatts will have been added for the area.

"This 5-year program will add 50 percent to the dependable capacity serving the area. We believe that it is more than adequate to meet all load growth in that period. If not, the company is prepared to expand its program to whatever extent may be necessary in accordance with its obligations to its customers and its responsibilities under the laws of California."

Testimony of Mr. Black relative to the appropriation of $200,000 for plans for steam plant, Central Valley Project, appearing on page 1940 of the Hearings before the Subcommittee of the House on Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1949, in part, follows:

"Mr. Black. * * * The $200,000 now requested should likewise be denied. There is no necessity for a steam plant. It has no place in the development of the Central Valley as a water project. Its construction would not carry out any purpose of the reclamation law, but would be used solely to set up the bureau in a new enterprise, the business of producing electric power by steam.

"A steam plant would not be used to supply any new or unserved market, but to compete for the existing market and to substitute federally financed, nontaxpaying facilities for those built by private enterprise and contributing large sums annually in taxes to local, state, and federal governments.

"A steam plant never will be required if the project is coordinated with the company's system as it should be for maximum efficiency and economy. But even if it is not so coordinated, firming by steam would not be necessary until the bureau is able to dispose of its firm hydro power in competition with the company. The bureau would have to obtain all of the existing publicly owned systems in the area as its customers in order to dispose of its firm hydro power."

Testimony of Mr. Black relative to power shortage in California, appearing on page 1010 of the Hearings before the Subcommittee of the Senate on Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1949, in part, follows:

"Senator Knowland. Now, recalling to your mind, which I am sure I do not have to do, the very serious power shortage we had not so long ago in California, where it was necessary for the Governor to declare a state of emergency and to have a brown-out, and quite a considerable brown-out, you do not feel that the growth of California is such that it is going to require both the utmost efforts of your company as well as any power facilities which can be secured through the Central Valley Project to meet the growing needs of the State of California?

"Mr. Black. I am not a "bear" on the growth of California, I assure you. We are now spending at the rate of $12,000,000 a month to try to build ahead of the load. We have built ahead for 60 years, with one exception after the First World War, when we had a short period when the power supply was tight. I am talking about the entire industry in the State. We are only one company.

"It is for the same reason—that is, another world war—that we had a shortage this year. We had been under wartime restrictions on construction. The load grew, and we ran into a dry year before any new plants could be constructed. We were unable to handle this situation, but we have demonstrated our ability to build ahead in normal times and take care of the dry years as well. In 1931, the driest year on record, our customers were served with no difficulty at all."

Until such time as the creation of any zone shall be effective for purposes of assessment or taxation, any tax or assessment levied by the board shall be levied at a uniform rate on all property in the Mendocino County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

For the Fiscal Year 1949-1950, but for no other fiscal year, notwithstanding Section 28 of this act, the assessment and equalization of property for the purpose of district taxation shall be effected as provided in this section.

Assessments of the district for the Fiscal Year 1949-1950 are liens on the property the same as if they were county taxes, except that the district assessment liens attach as of noon on the day after this act becomes effective.

It is presumed that the assessments of property made by the county assessor and by the State Board of Equalization for county taxation purposes for the Fiscal Year 1949-1950 are the correct assessments for purposes of assessment by the district and the rolls prepared by the county assessor and the State Board of Equalization shall be used for purposes of levying and collecting the assessments for the district. If the ownership or taxable situs or value of any property changes between noon on the first Monday in March, 1949, and the date on which attaches the lien for assessments of the district for the Fiscal Year 1949-1950, then, on petition of the taxpayer affected to the assisting authority, suitable entry shall be made on the assessment roll, in the manner prescribed by the State Board of Equalization, to indicate such change in the ownership or taxability or value of the property for purposes of assessment by the district.

In equalizing the assessments made by the county assessor, the Board of Supervisors of Mendocino County, sitting as the county board of equalization, in addition to its regular equalization duties, shall also, in the same manner and under the same rules, equalize the valuation of property for purposes of assessment by the district in accordance with the requirements of this section and any such changes made by the county board of equalization in the assessment roll shall be entered in the manner prescribed by the State Board of Equalization.

If, for purposes of assessments by the district, a change in the assessment for county taxation purposes is not sought under this section before the end of the period during which such assessment may be equalized, or corrected on a petition for reassessment, such assessment, if valid for county taxation purposes, is conclusively presumed to be the correct assessment for assessment purposes of the district.

The board may prescribe by ordinance any necessary procedure, in accordance with the policy of this act, for the purpose of assessing, equalizing, levying, and collecting taxes or assessments for the district for the Fiscal Year 1949-1950. Except as provided in this section, Section 28 of this act is applicable to the assessment and equalization of property for the purpose of district assessments for the Fiscal Year 1949-1950."

COMMUNICATIONS

JOINT STATEMENT IN OPPOSITION TO THE DICKEY BILLS (A.B. 2034 AND A.B. 2156)

June 15, 1949

To the Senate of the State of California:

The undersigned representatives of public and private water works and state and local governmental organizations and agencies, mindful of their obligation to protect the public welfare and all users of water, urge the State Senate to defeat the Dickey Water Pollution bills (A.B. 2034 and A.B. 2156) because:

1. They endanger the purity of the water supply of the people of the entire State;

2. They endanger the public health because of inadequate controls to prevent the dangerous pollution of water;

3. They jeopardize the quality of industrial water supply;

4. They threaten the interests of the farmers because the quality of waters used for agricultural purposes cannot be protected.

These statements are not made without awareness of their grave implications. We submit them to the Senate because, believing them to be true, we strongly feel that the Members of the Senate should not act on these bills without full knowledge in advance of what the result of such action would be.

It is not often in the career of any legislator that proposals so dangerous to the health, safety and welfare of the State are presented for adoption. It is difficult for us even now to believe that such legislation is so close to final passage.

The Senate is confronted with contending forces. On the side of these Dickey bills are the very industries causing pollution, who seek to be excused from the financial burden of regulations requiring them to provide proper treatment of their industrial waste. Inquiry will reveal that this is the real and the only real support for these bills. All else is token support stemming in one way or another from this basic industrial sponsorship.

And on the other side, opposing these bills, what does the Senate find? The representatives of public and private water works and State and local government whose only purpose is to serve and protect the public interest. There is no selfish purpose to be served by this opposition and the loose charges of bureaucracy do not alter that fact.

We have tried in good faith for months to correct the deficiencies in these bills by submitting amendments to the author. Numerous amendments have in fact been adopted to conceal the real purpose of these bills so boldly stated in earlier drafts. Adequate amendments have never been adopted and the proponents of these bills refuse to accept amendments essential to protect the people and the quality of the waters of the State.

Therefore, to protect the waters of the State upon which all the people depend for their lives and livelihood, we urge the Senate to defeat A.B. 2034 and A.B. 2156.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Breed asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following explanation of vote on Senate Bill No. 194 printed in the Journal:

Explanation of Vote on Senate Bill No. 194

When Senate Bill No. 194, the San Francisco-Metropolitan Area Rapid Transit District Act, was up for final passage in the Senate on June 14, 1949, the question was asked of Senator O'Gara if this bill or act would be used in any manner, in California or in Washington, D. C., against the San Francisco Bay parallel bridge crossing.

Senator O'Gara gave the assurance, after consulting Supervisor Marvin E. Lewis of San Francisco and other proponents of Senate Bill No. 194, that it would not be so used.

Without that assurance upon the representatives of San Francisco present, we would have voted against the passage of Senate Bill No. 194.

"SECTION 1. Section 1187 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1187. Every original contractor, claiming the benefit of this chapter, within sixty days after the completion of his contract, and every person save the original contractor claiming the benefit of this chapter, at any time after he has ceased to perform labor or furnish material, or both, for any work of improvement mentioned in this chapter, and until 30 days after the completion of such work of improvement, as a whole, may file for record with the county recorder of the county or city and county in which such property or some part thereof is situated a claim of lien containing a statement of his demand after deducting all just credits and offsets, the name of the owner or reputed owner, if known, a general statement of the kind of work done or materials furnished by him, or both, the name of the person by whom he was employed or to whom he furnished the materials, and a description of the property sought to be charged with the lien sufficient for identification; which claim of lien must be verified by oath of claimant or some other person.

Any person who has supplied material or labor to a subcontractor shall give five days' written notice of intention to file a claim of lien to the owner and the original contractor.

In all cases, any of the following shall be deemed equivalent to a completion for all the purposes of this chapter: The occupation or use of a building, improvement or structure by the owner, or his representative, accompanied by cessation from labor thereon; or the acceptance by the owner, or said agent, of said building, improvement or structure, or cessation from labor for 30 days upon any contract or upon any building, improvement or structure, or the alteration, addition to, or repair thereof; the filing of the notice hereinafter provided for.

The owner shall within ten days after the completion of any contract or work of improvement provided for in this chapter, or within ten days after there has been a cessation from labor thereon for a period of 30 days, file for record in the office of the county recorder of the county where the property is situated a notice setting forth the date when the same was completed, or on which cessation from labor occurred, together with his name, address and the nature of his title, and a description of the property sufficient for identification, together with the name of the original contractor, if any, for the work of improvement as a whole, or if the notice is given only of the work under a particular contract, then the name of the contractor under such contract, which notice shall be signed and verified by the owner or by some other person on his behalf. The fee for recording the same shall be as provided in Section 4300c of the Political Code for the recording of instruments, papers and notices required by law to be recorded. Where the ownership of the property is in several persons, any one or more of the several owners may execute and file such notice but the notice must state the names, addresses, and nature of title of all such owners. In case such notice be not so filed, then all persons claiming the benefit of this chapter, shall have 90 days after the completion of said work of improvement within which to file their claims or lien.

The phrase "work of improvement" and the word "improvement" as used in this chapter are each hereby defined to mean the entire structure or scheme of improvement as a whole; provided, that where a work of improvement as so defined consists in the construction of two or more separate residential units, each such separate residential unit shall be considered a separate "work of improvement" or "improvement," and the time for filing claims of lien against each such residential unit as provided in this chapter shall commence to run upon the completion of each such residential unit. A separate residential unit is defined as consisting of one residential structure together with any garages or other outbuildings appurtenant thereto. The provisions of this proviso shall not impair any rights conferred under the provisions of Sections 1184c, 1188, and 1191 of this code. Materials delivered to or upon any portion of said entire work of improvement or furnished to be used in said entire work of improvement and ultimately used or consumed in one of such separate residential units shall, for all the purposes of this chapter, be deemed to have been furnished to be used or consumed in the separate residential unit in which the same shall have been actually used or consumed; provided, however, that if the lien claimant is unable to segregate the amounts used on or consumed in such separate residential units he shall be entitled to all the benefits of Section 1188 of this code."

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Kraft asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following explanation of his vote on the conference report concerning Assembly Bill No. 1100 printed in the Journal:

Explanation of Vote by Senator Kraft

I am casting a "no" vote for the reason that I do not believe the system that by which a budget was finally arrived is one that affords an equal opportunity for presentation for amendments to the budget. It was my understanding before the Free Conference Committee was appointed that those desiring to submit amendments to the Conference Committee would have this opportunity, and because this opportunity to present amendments was not afforded, I am casting my vote "no".

SENATOR KRAFT

By Senators Burns, Sutton, Coombs, Watson, and Dilworth:

Senate Resolution No. 137

Relative to creating the Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities

WHEREAS, These are yet times of public danger, and subversive persons and groups are endangering our domestic unity so as to leave us unprepared to resist attack from without or within, and under color of the protection afforded by the Bill of Rights these persons and groups seek to destroy our freedom by force, violence, threats, undermining and sabotage, and to subject us to the domination of foreign powers and ideologies; and

WHEREAS, There is danger that the ordeal through which the Country suffered may be in vain; and

WHEREAS, Persons and groups, motivated by hatred of American ideals, our republican form of government and democratic processes, are now seeking to tear down by subversion what we have so valiantly fought to preserve and sustain; and

WHEREAS, California, as one of the laboratories of this great Nation, may profitably study the problem within its boundaries, and enact pertinent legislation therein, if facts are available therefor; and

WHEREAS, State legislation to meet the problem and to assist law enforcement officers can best be based on a thorough and impartial investigation by a competent and active legislative committee; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That
